

A Video on the Preservation of Wood at Herculaneum

Great video Joshua! 😊

You know, what always impressed me about the preserved organic stuff in Herculaneum and Pompeii was the sectioned loaves of bread. They almost look like you can lay down a few coins and get your birthday cake shaped section of bread and continue down the street.

Unfortunately, they're all really stale. 😞

The form and recipe still exists. Here is a yummy reconstruction:
