

Nothing Ain't Worth Nothing....

This would be better as a cartoon, but here it goes anyway...lol. 😄

Person A: "I'm trying to find my big heavy winter coat and I just looked inside the guest room closet where I thought I put it at the end of last winter...but there was nothing in the closet!"

Person B: "You better go look again, because I'm sure that there is something in there."

Person A: "Oh yeah? Do you think it magically appeared?"

We then see Person A and Person B go and look inside the closet.

Person B: "See, look at all that dust in the bottom of the closet! I told you there was something in there!"
