

Happy Thanksgiving!

Post by “Don” of November 28, 2024 at 9:14 AM

For those on the forum based in the US, have a happy Thanksgiving holiday.

For those that live elsewhere, take a moment today to feel gratitude for what you have and the pleasures in your life, no matter if large or small.

VS35. Don't ruin the things you have by wanting what you don't have, but realize that they too are things you once did wish for.

VS55. Misfortune must be cured through gratitude for what has been lost and the knowledge that it is impossible to change what has happened.