Hi

I am a retired surgeon with a masters in counseling psychology. I have had a strong interest in Lucretius since reading “the Swerve” many times. I have approached an embodied psychology, philosophy and spirituality over the past decade. I am a practitioner of Yoga Nidra meditation and I have explored traditional Tantra practices. But I always felt the lack of a formal resource in Epicurean philosophy until I discovered this site. I appreciate the purist approach to Epicurus, and the wider view of his teaching that you have provided here. I am also listening to the podcast carefully.

Thanks for doing this great work!
