

Emily Austin's "Living For Pleasure" Wins Award. (H/T to Lowri for finding this!)

Post by "Cassius" of May 28, 2025 at 10:57 PM

Thanks to Lowri834 for this find! She posted it first on the reading list, but due to the way the forum software works I'm not sure it will come to everyone's attention there - so reposting it here:

Image not found or type unknown

Professor Emily Austin wins inaugural Public History of Philosophy Prize | Inside WFU

Emily Austin, Professor of Philosophy at Wake Forest University, has been named the first-ever recipient of the Public History of Philosophy Prize, a new...

<https://www.epicureanfriends.com/thread/4473-emily-austin-s-living-for-pleasure-wins-award-h-t-to-lowri-for-finding-this/?postID=35566#post35566>

inside.wfu.edu

Image not found or type unknown

<https://www.epicureanfriends.com/thread/4473-emily-austin-s-living-for-pleasure-wins-award-h-t-to-lowri-for-finding-this/?postID=35566#post35566>

Austin Wins New Public History of Philosophy Prize - Daily Nous

The Journal of the History of Philosophy has established a new, biannual prize for a book that brings the history of philosophy to a broader public audience...
dailynous.com