

Superstition and Friday the 13th

Post by “Eikadistes” of June 16, 2025 at 3:40 PM

As always...

“A thorough knowledge of the facts of nature relieves us of the burden of superstition, frees us from fear of death, and shields us against the disturbing effects of ignorance...”

“... which is often in itself
a cause of terrifying apprehensions.”

Torquatus, On the Ends of Good and Evil 1.19.63

