

Epicurean Mockery of Opposing Philosophers and Schools

Post by “Eikadistes” of July 6, 2025 at 11:18 AM

I really enjoyed chewing on these ancient slurs.

I appreciate that there seems to be a universal preconception for "Hater" or "Haters". 😊

In particular, I like thinking that Plato is not just "golden", but "gilded", as in, "cheap" and "superficial", like modern currency, or that his dialogues are just gold leaf painted over bad philosophy.

Good find on Sannídōros! I missed that etymology completely.