

A Veiled Reference to Epicurus in Robert Heinlein?

Post by “Hiram” of July 1, 2019 at 9:29 AM

Winds of Dune also depicts the evils of denial of emotion in the Bene Gesserit sisterhood, and how the moral faculty requires that we consult the emotions. I also see echoes of Plato's Republic in how women are made to bear children only to have them snatched from their hands and raised by the state (a theme we also find in Handmaid's Tale)

<https://theautarkist.wordpress.com/2019/05/30/boo...-winds-of-dune/>