

The Closing Paragraph of the Letter to Menoecus

Post by “Kalosyni” of August 18, 2025 at 4:38 PM

This is somewhat applicable, and sheds some light on what is being referred to in the closing paragraph of the Letter to Menoecus, a life of contemplation is like living like the gods (of course, minus the Aristotilian emphasis on virtues).

Epicurus would have surely written about this from his own perspective, but so much of his writings were lost.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pHmEj0JG62Q>