Hyakinthos tells us:

This is to confirm my request for a new account.

Hey! I'm actually fairly new to Epicureanism but have studied other philosophy before, especially Taoism. In fact I actually found Epicureanism through studying Yang Zhu (a Taoist contemporary to Epicurus) and while I do love Taoism.

The ethics and logic of Epicurus really spoke to me. I've never understood why so many religions and philosophies shun the idea of pleasant living in favor of some abstract concept, such as relationship with God, or mystic nirvana.

So far even in the 2 months I've been studying Epicurus, I've found his doctrines to actually be helping me improve my life and my outlook on life, which is more than any religion has ever done.

Anyways, I'm also a huge history and mythology nerd. That's about it.

Thanks so much for having me, I'm really excited to be here, and really excited to learn more!
