

Episode 327 - EATAQ 09 - Intelligent Design vs Emergence

This episode is now up. As I reflect post-editing I regret that we didn't give more examples from Sedley's article about emergence (downward or otherwise) but that's a deep subject on its own and one we'll return to in the future. There's a lot more research and reading to be done on discussion in recent years on this topic, including illustrations that are probably much more dramatic than my "water vs H₂O" example.
