Welcome Buck. I bet others will have good commentary on printed versions. If you mean actual paper copies there is the "Hedonicon" issued by our friend Eikadistes in recent years, or the collections such as the Epicurus Reader. At this point I mainly rely myself on the PDFs of the public domain versions by Bailey and Rackham or the like, or in the case of Lucretius the Martin Ferguson Smith edition by Hacket Publishing.

Any particular printed work or collection in your mind?
