

Bryan Harris Interlinear Translation Of Lucretius

Post by "Kalosyni" of May 25, 2026 at 9:18 AM

Bryan

Quote from Bryan

For example:

"ómnis énim Cólór omnínō mūtātur ín ómnīs"

...for every Color is altogether changed into every [color]

However, given Lucretius uses "mūtātur," the word "mutated" is a direct descendant:

...for every Color is altogether mutated into every [color]

Bryan, would it then be correct to say that: "when every color changes it is a completely different color" ?