

Episode 340 - EATAQ22 - Not Yet Recorded

Post by “Joshua” of June 28, 2026 at 11:31 AM

As Kalosyni syni informed us the other day, there has been a recent development regarding Philodemus' library at Herculaneum, and for the first time a complete scroll has been digitally unrolled from beginning to end.

A link to a PDF containing the Greek text and an English translation can be found at the website of the Vesuvius Challenge here. The PDF is linked immediately under the title and date, and also describes in great detail the process and technology used to virtually unroll the text.