

Discussion of the Society of Epicurus' 20 Tenets of 12/21/19

Of the list, here are the ones that I can pretty much endorse without reservation:

6. All bodies are made of particles and void.

8. Nothing comes from nothing.

10. All that exists, exists within nature. There is no super-natural or un-natural "realm"; it would not have a way of existing outside of nature. Nature is reality.

14. Death is nothing to us because when we are, death is not and when death is, we are not. Since there is no sentience in death, it is never experienced by us

19. Friendship is necessary for securing happiness. It is advantageous to promote Epicurean philosophy in order to widen our circle of Epicurean friends.

The others I have varying degrees of concern about and I will address them separately, trying also to incorporate comments made by others too.
