

Happy Holidays To All!

Post by “Cassius” of December 23, 2019 at 1:57 PM

My posting will probably be sporadic for a couple of days but should be back to normal soon. I hope everyone here has a happy holiday season. I plan to spend as much time as I can planning for new Epicurean projects in the coming year, and I do want to repeat how appreciative I am to those who post here and join us in the study of Epicurus. Thanks again and a happy holiday to each and every one of you!
