

VS35 - Bailey's Strange and Probably Misleading Translation of VS 35

Post by “Maciej” of January 23, 2018 at 11:11 PM

This seems right. It psychologically makes sense as well because subject recollects memory of past desire that has been satisfied, pain that was alleviated in order to avoid pain of present desire. I would not be surprised if there are other fragments from epicurus and epicurenas that could confirmed dewitts and peter saint andre's translations.