

Welcome Isychos!

Post by “isychos” of April 15, 2020 at 11:55 PM

Thank you for welcoming me.

I discovered this forum through the Facebook group, however having recently deactivated my fb account I had been following the discussions here and decided to sign up.

Most of my reading has been through the multitude of links and resources provided here, and a couple of years ago I read EAHP by DeWitt, but have been intending to reread it again. I have also read A Few Days in Athens by Frances Wright.

I am grateful for being part of this community and for the wealth of information and knowledge here, and am looking forward to building on my understanding of Epicurean Philosophy.

Thank you