

Notes and Musings on Chapter 6

Post by “Don” of July 7, 2020 at 9:56 PM

Agreed. My perspective is that, after reading some of his papers, I'm holding him to a higher standard now. I know he has the (academic) goods. I did genuinely find several of his points in this chapter fascinating and enlightening.

I'm getting closer to his exposition of doctrine, so I'm keeping my fingers crossed that I can be more generous overall.