Thanks Godfrey, just read that thread and some really useful thoughts. Thank you for pointing this out.

I also found your suggestion about the atomic universe and its implications to be pretty interesting. Be keen to here more about that.

I am trying to find innovative ways of teaching my 4 year old elements of Epicureanism as i figured if you teach it you can master it. (Which can only be a great thing for me). 😊.

This weekend I had a good opportunity to teach my 4 year old a little bit about 'what is terrible is easy to endure'. To which I think ill have lots of lesson plans here!!
