

Daily Interactions With The Non-Epicurean World

Post by "Cassius" of July 13, 2020 at 5:11 PM

Yes that was the point of my going off on the tangent. It seems very Epicurean to me to take the position that surely off all the things we have information about, the thing we have the MOST information about is "us" -- so we need to start with understanding ourselves and not considering ourselves to be mystical black boxes that only a god or a magician could figure out.