

Is [X] a waste of time?

Lol. Yes, Cassius, I think I can say that my life has gone to the birds, with 5 of them to take care of.

Odd reasons why I chose bagpipes:

- I love music that has a drone or eson, like the Byzantine Chant that I performed for several years.
- I had recently been to Scotland
- I wanted to choose something “different” or unusual
- I would get all emotional when the massed bands would play at Highland games
- lessons were free and nearby

So, relevant to this conversation? Not really! 😊

It really has been a shock to me to find out the insane amount of time one has to practice to learn an instrument. Half an hour a day really doesn't cut it.
