Don : Brave soul for attempting to wrestle the beast! (Do the five appendages make it a “quinquepus”?) My electric chanter is far more friendly and even makes me sound good sometimes.

To keep things on topic, I watched a fascinating film on Amazon Prime yesterday called “Whiplash”. It is about a music student who aspires to become “one of the greats” but finds himself under the tutelage of a horrendously abusive teacher. The film explores the dangers of aspiring for excellence at any cost. I recommend a viewing if anyone has access!
