

Epicurean Idioms To Be Deciphered - "Against him who places himself with head where his feet should be."

Post by "Cassius" of October 15, 2020 at 9:08 PM

Thanks for those clips Joshua! Looks like that Burnyeat article in particular is on point, if we can get the full article (or chapter, as the case may be).

and very good observation about "head over heels" which does not seem descriptive at all, but almost certainly seems to be intended to mean something similar.