

A Thread For Encouraging Thoughts

Post by “Cassius” of April 11, 2018 at 7:10 AM

All of us get discouraged at times, but we shouldn't be tempted to think that we need a fraudulent Jewish ghost or a mindless Christian ethical system. We are fighting for the people and the things that we love in life, and that is more than enough reason to fight. All the evidence our heart needs come from the pleasure we feel in that which we love, and the pain that we feel in losing it. And all the evidence our mind needs starts with the fundamental Epicurean observation we make with our own eyes: that nothing comes from nothing, and nothing goes to nothing.

Post by “Pacatus” of April 11, 2023 at 1:03 PM

“The real secret to longevity is that there are no secrets. But we live daily and die once, so we must make the most of the time we have.” (My bold and italics)

Howard Tucker, M.D. – 100 years old.

Image not found or type unknown

At 100 years old, I'm the 'world's oldest practicing doctor'—5 things I never do to live a long, happy life

Dr. Howard Tucker has been practicing medicine and neurology for over 75 years. The 100-year-old doctor shares his best advice for staying happy, healthy and...

www.cnbc.com