

Ideas For 2025?

Post by "Cassius" of January 23, 2025 at 9:43 AM

Our main plan for 2025 will be to continue on the same track we are on as to maintenance of the Forum, Lucretius Today Podcast, Wednesday Meetings, Twentieth Commemorations, and special projects like our recent Livestream. As to the livestream in particular, I want to see those done regularly, probably in an easier-to-do format. I also want 2025 to be the year we make more progress in getting a self-paced learning program off the ground at <http://www.epicuruscollege.com>.

Beyond that - and other than the general desirability of more of the same, does anyone have other suggestions or ideas that they would like us to consider pursuing here at EpicureanFriends?

Consider this a general feedback / suggestion thread, almost as a "wish list" of things you would like to see us pursue in 2025. Can't promise that we can get to all of them, but we know we'll miss 100% of the targets we don't identify.

So if you have suggestions you'd like us to consider, please post in this thread.
