Hi all members of the Group

thank you for accepting me as a member, I am not a philosopher but I studied philosophy since I was young, I tend always to practice philosophy not only think or judge what is right or wrong.

I think that freedom to think and to judge for our self is fundamental and always try to learn more because there is no absolute truth and no ultimate goal except pleasure which is our highest good

I would like to implement Hedonism in our daily life and to solve today's problems based on Epicurean approach and philosophy

I thank you all

Naw

I hope you will accept this as your invitation to help our little band here on the forum, Naw ka! Here our goal is not to be a tool of Facebook or a plaything for anyone else. Our goal here is to study and promote the philosophy of Epicurus, and we need all the help we can get in writing, making "memes," and doing all the things that are necessary in today's world to "spread the word." --

Welcome aboard!
