I think most of our listeners will particularly enjoy the just-released episode 289, in which we focus on what Cicero's explanation of the Stoic position reveals to us about the details of Epicurus' rebuttal to those views. Can't promise an awful lot of air time for those who listen to our podcasts for Star Trek references, but the title does help summarize where we're going here. Find the podcast and comment on it in the thread below:

Episode 289 - TD19 - "Epicureans Are Not Spocks!"

Welcome to Episode 289 of Lucretius Today. This is a podcast dedicated to the poet Lucretius, who wrote "On The Nature of Things," the most complete presentation of Epicurean philosophy left to us from the ancient world.

Each week we walk you through the Epicurean texts, and we discuss how Epicurean philosophy can apply to you today. If you find the Epicurean worldview attractive, we invite you to join us in the study of Epicurus at EpicureanFriends.com, where we discuss this and all of our...
