NOTE -- I cut and pasted this page on 4/15/19 from the original site. The "thvproject" link below appears to have been "re-assigned" all right -- it now appears to be a PORN site. I am leaving the text as is for the moment, or at least until i can find the correct replacement link.

Thesaurus Herculansenium Voluminum

On the initiative of Gianluca Del Mastro, the Centro Internazionale per la Studio dei Papiri Ercolanesi began in 2008 with the construction of a full-text database of herculean papyri (Thesaurus Herculansenium Voluminum , THV). In collaboration with the Department of Classical Philology I at the University of Würzburg, a total of 26 texts were entered and made available at <http://www.thvproject.it> (this address has since been re-assigned and contains other material). In 2013, the transfer of existing and new texts began in the Digital Corpus of Literary Papyri , which was coordinated by Holger Essler in Würzburg. Today, with 124 texts and 240 inventory numbers, almost all Greek papyri from Herculaneum in the Corpus are recorded and searchable . The text input and revision was based on the latest complete edition. Later partial editions or readings are listed in the literature.

Martin as this one is in Germany, I am wondering if you have any insight into them, which you could perhaps post here.

For example, i am not clear whether this index is thought to be "complete," or whether this material too comes from some other more primary source.

Post by “Martin” of April 17, 2019 at 2:56 PM

The "original" was probably that re-assigned Italian site.

That each translation of a fragment by an Italian reseacher seems to be revised by a member of the Wuerzburg center indicates that the cooperation between the teams is fairly close and that the Wuerzburg page is a good mirror site of whatever original might exist on an intranet in Italy.

South Germany is not on my itinerary this year, so it is unlikely that I will get some first-hand info soon. If I find some interesting material from Wuerzburg in German, I will certainly elaborate here or on FB. Moreover, I prefer to acquire more formal knowledge on Epicurus' philosophy before making direct contact with the Wuerzburg center.

Thanks Martin, that makes sense!

All of the above links I tried are now dead (error 404). Here is the main site link for those who wish to try again:

Thank you for letting us know, AaronSF! We'll have to go through and fix those this week.
